

Food: Left

A

An oval-shaped edible
seed coming from a tree.

B

Baked food made
from dough of flour
and usually raised
with yeast.

C

Strips of potato fried
in deep fat.

D

The sweet edible fruit
of a palm tree.

E

The oval reproductive body of a hen used as food.

F

A typical English dish
made of fried hake
and chips.

G

An aromatic bulb used as seasoning. You can use it to scare
vampires.

H

A sweet yellowish
liquid produced by bees.

Strong tea served
over ice.

J

Food made from
crushed fruit boiled
with sugar.

K

The berry of the Chinese gooseberry, with brown skin and tasty green flesh.

L

A crustacean that can be eaten, with big eyes, 8 legs and 2 large pincers.

M

A sweet quick bread
baked in a cup-
shaped pan.

N

A dry fruit made up of a seed with a hard shell.

0

Tentacles prepared as food.

P

Edible sea animal with
two pincers.

R

Grains of marshy areas, cultivated in warm climates and used as food.

S

A plant with crinkly or flat green leaves that can be eaten.

T

The flesh of a large
sea animal used as
food.

U

A pickled salt plum
from Japan.

v

Edible seeds, roots,
stems, leaves or bulbs
coming from herbaceous plants.

w

Large and round fruit
with a green outer part
and a red pulp.

Y

A traditional English food made of baked batter pudding. It's eaten with roast beef.